Project

Free CodeCamp !

Whilst browsing online about open source projects, I bumped into a video of a person that explained the importance of contributing and mentioned Free CodeCamp.

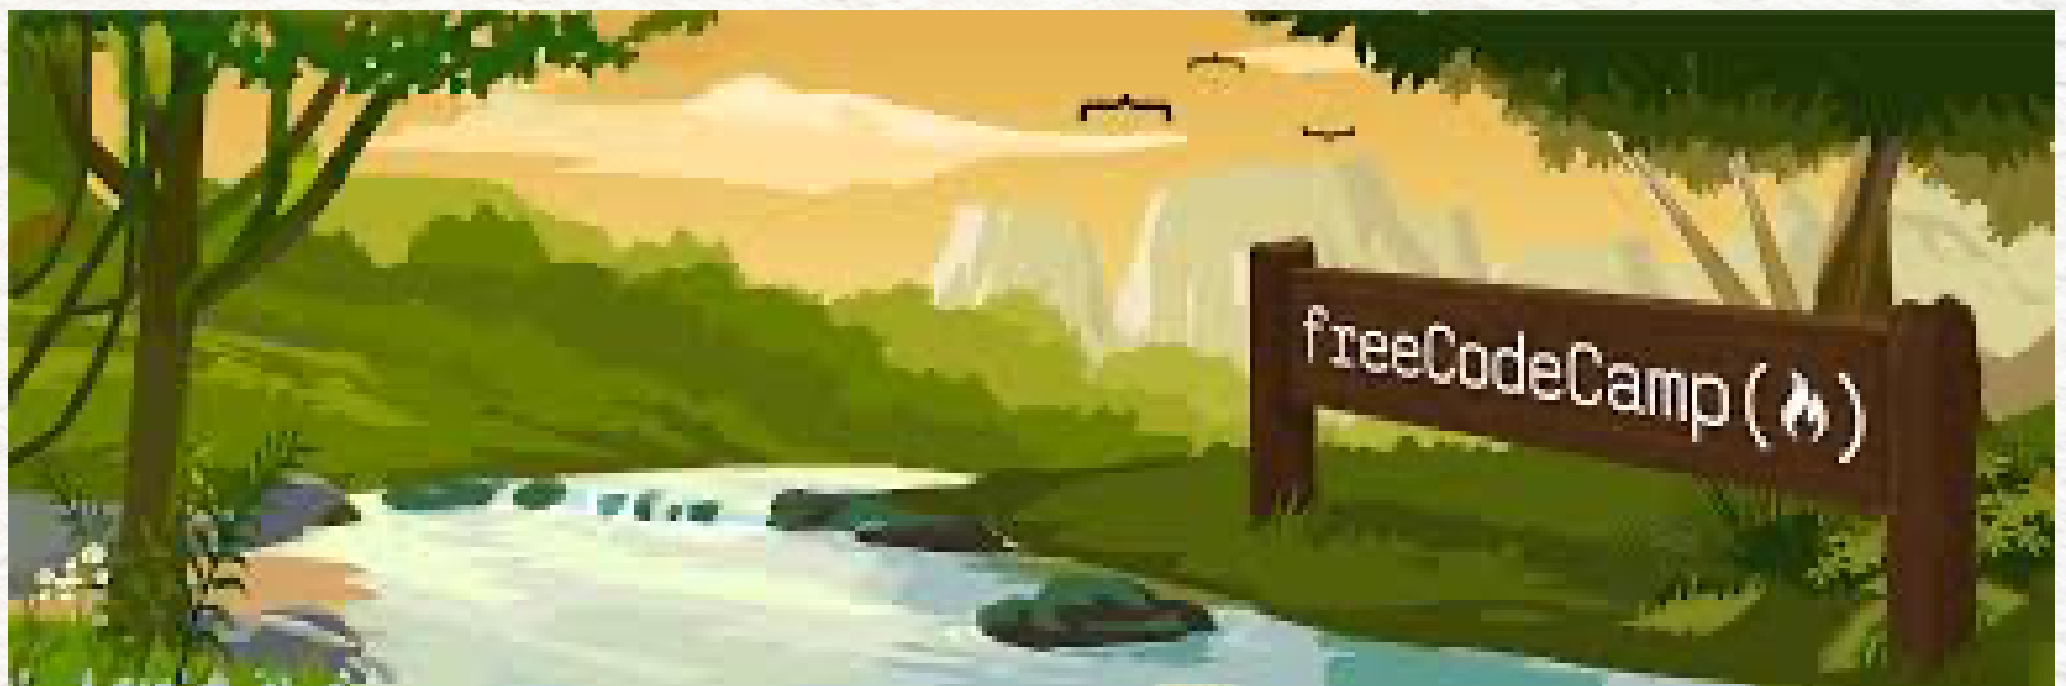

This is a project that allows anyone to learn about coding for free.

Why this project

I chose this project as it looks currently very active and it has great documentation as well as aligning with my passion for coding and helping others to have access to information about it.

The slide features a light beige, textured background. It is decorated with watercolor-style floral illustrations in the corners: yellow flowers in the top-left and bottom-left, green leaves in the top-right, and a mix of yellow, blue, and green flowers in the bottom-right.

Type of contribution

I will be contributing to Free CodeCamp through Spanish translation :)

Thank You
